REVISED DRAFT 2

A young girl is panicking as she scampers towards a cubicle in a school's female restroom. She locks herself inside a cubicle. She was horrified to see her own penis emerging from her crotch. She is rapidly changing into a well-endowed man. The scene ends as it fades to black.

An animated video narrates how the young girl got her 7-inch penis and it is all because of a humongous asteroid that fell on Mt. Pinatubo's crater in the Philippines. The asteroid was named Andromeda, and it released a virus. The Venus virus is a virus that affects girls aging from 15 to 17. Girls from 15 to 17 years old who have the Venus virus will become a full-fledged man when they reach the age of 18.

An education video about the virus ends and reveals a class of high school students watching it while being lectured by the whimsical and a little bit crazy PROF. LAVINA. The transvestite professor reminds the ladies of the class that the annual Venus Virus checkup is happening tomorrow.

At the school hall way, GABS picks a fight with a burly guy who is making fun of a girl with the Venus Virus. REBECCA witnessed the whole brawl while flirting with her awkwardly disgusted "boyfriend" DANNY. ANGINA hurriedly passed the two to meet her boyfriend JAKE, who is waiting at the school exit.

In front of an all male dormitory, CLAIRE is desperately waiting outside and is trying to reach and contact her boyfriend MAC. Apparently, the young lass from the province is pregnant and MAC doesn't know it yet. But what CLAIRE doesn't know is that her boyfriend is having sex with another girl. CLAIRE decided to go home.

GABS is excited about the Venus virus test and hopes she gets it to finally become a man. She later finds out that her mother was beaten again by his alcoholic father. GABS storms out of the house because of frustration.

REBECCA tries to seduce DANNY, but horribly fails. REBECCA threw a tantrum. DANNY was terrified thinking that REBECCA knows he's gay. The closet queen felt at ease after confirming that his dimwitted girlfriend does not have any clue that he is actually gay.

ANGINA gets a surprise from JAKE when he shows her a cake with 65 candles to celebrate their 65th monthsary. The two have a habit of exchanging hadoukens and kikouken from the Streetfighter videogame franchise as a term of endearment. While playing videogames, ANGINA's mom caught the two in an awkward and naughty position. During dinner, ANGINA's mom reminds ANGINA that the Venus virus test is tomorrow. JAKE reassures ANGINA's mom there is nothing to worry about since ANGINA has been tested as negative for the virus for the past two years.

Several girls are waiting in line. It is the day of the Venus virus test. It is a visual smorgasbord of different women. A weird girl cult with black candles is chanting to prevent them from being positive for the Venus virus test. There are girls bawling like there's no tomorrow fearing that they are bound for manhood. There's a group of tomboys cheering and hoping that they will get the virus and finally become a man.

CLAIRE and ANGINA got acquainted with each other while they line up for the dreaded annual test. REBECCA and GABS also took the Venus virus test. If a girl receives a blue card she is negative for the Venus Virus, while receiving a red card, on the other hand, means positive for the Venus virus. All four girls are positive with the Venus Virus.

REBECCA, ANGINA and CLAIRE are traumatized of the result of the Venus Virus test, while GABS is partying like there's no tomorrow since her dream of becoming a man will finally come true. REBECCA even tries to commit suicide and tries to swallow a handful of laxatives that ended up in epic comedic aftermath. CLAIRE and ANGINA dwell on the horrors of their future once they finally become a man. All three girls are depressed, but a special newscast gave them hope. PROFESSOR BEN, a renowned Filipino scientist unveiled his discovery: an Anti-Venus Virus formula.

The professor informed the public that the miraculous formula prevents the Anti-Venus Virus from turning an infected female to becoming a male, but it cannot reverse the effects of those females who became males already. After an epic demonstration, the whole world is convinced that the formula works. Due to the complexity of the formula, there is only 5,000,000 formula to be given to Filipinas. ANGINA, CLAIRE and REBECCA are determined to be one of the 5 million Filipinas to get the anti-Venus virus formula.

CLAIRE and ANGINA saw each other at Quiapo, one of the registration sites for the free 5,000,000 anti-Venus virus formula. GABS out of curiosity also went to Quiapo and finds REBECCA who was almost victimized by a shady cult of girls trying to lessen the number of female registrants to increase the chances of their cult getting the anti-Venus virus formula. The two struck a deal, Gabs will help Rebecca get a formula and in exchange, Rebecca will become her girlfriend.

There are thousands of women at Quiapo and among them is MIKAELA. She is a prostitute who also have the Venus virus and wants to get an anti-Venus Virus formula. She wants to remain as a woman in order for her American lover to continue financing her brother's cancer treatment. Two rich girls played a prank on MIKAELA. The two girls tossed Mikaela's pre-registration number card in a nearby canal.

Stressed and frustrated, MIKAELA stalked the two rich girls. She kills both by stabbing them with a butterfly knife and takes their pre-registration card. ANGINA and CLAIRE accidentally saw the whole ordeal and because of that, MIKAELA plans to kill them too. ANGINA and CLAIRE got separated in the crowd while running away from MIKAELA. ANGINA is cornered by MIKAELA and was about to be killed when GABS and REBECCA knock Mikaela unconscious by hitting her head with a wooden stick. It was CLAIRE who found the two and asked for their help. MIKAELA was arrested by the police.

ANGINA hands a pre-registration card to REBECCA, who was unable to get a card, as a token of appreciation. ANGINA got MIKAELA's card when it fell off after the angry prostitute was knocked unconscious. However, because of what has happened, the registration was cancelled and it was announced that it will resume indefinitely.

While waiting for the registration of the anti-Venus virus treatment to resume, the four girls went to Rebecca's house to celebrate their friendship. The girls learned about each other which makes the bond between them stronger. ANGINA, GABS, CLAIRE and REBECCA got drunk and fell asleep. When GABS woke up and turned the TV on, she found out that the anti-Venus virus treatment registration has resumed and the only registration site that still accepts applicants is in Makati, the Philippines' business district.

GABS, REBECCA, ANGINA and CLAIRE embarked on a race against time to reach Makati and get a registration card to qualify for the anti-Venus virus formula. The girls went through a hellish commute due to traffic and end up hitching a ride from a senile horny driver that has the hots for GABS.

After reaching Makati, CLAIRE finds her boyfriend MAC who is accompanying another girl who has the Venus Virus too. CLAIRE finds out that MAC is cheating on her, but she is still willing to give the guy a chance. However, MAC told CLAIRE he is not serious with her. CLAIRE bursts into tears revealing that she is pregnant and MAC is the father of the child. MAC does not care at all and instead punches CLAIRE in the belly for holding on to him. GABS goes berserk and starts beating MAC. The fight only stopped when ANGINA shouted that CLAIRE is bleeding. The girls quickly carry Claire to bring her to the hospital. MAC quickly takes his car and drives off.

REBECCA, ANGINA and GABS managed to take CLAIRE to a nearby hospital, but sadly this caused them to lose their opportunity to register and to qualify for the anti-Venus Virus treatment. Meanwhile, the doctors found out about CLAIRE being pregnant and having the Venus virus. CLAIRE's pregnancy is a first in the history of the Venus virus. Ever since the virus was discovered no woman who is currently pregnant had the virus. This is the first time a pregnant woman is diagnosed with the virus.

CLAIRE woke up and was surprised to see the renowned PROFESSOR BEN watching her. The professor revealed that CLAIRE will receive the treatment, this is because she is a special case and the professor values all life. The professor also revealed that he is the first one who got the Venus Virus and became a man. She was once known as a girl named: VENUS, hence the name of the virus was based on her original name.

The professor also provided ANGINA, REBECCA and even GABS, a special pre-registration for the anti-Venus virus treatment, however whether they will pass the evaluation is up to the team of selection officers.

Six months have passed and ANGINA is almost a man. Through the past months, she went into hiding and lost communication with JAKE. JAKE finally finds ANGINA. JAKE has bandages and a cast on his left arm. JAKE told ANGINA he recently found out what happened. He was searching for ANGINA during the anti-Venus Virus registration and had an accident. MAC who was running away from CLAIRE, was driving so fast, rammed his car. JAKE fell into a coma for more than four months. ANGINA asked JAKE to leave, but JAKE asked why should he leave Angina when they didn't really break up. ANGINA's anguish all came out. She thinks their relationship is over now that she's becoming already a man. JAKE got angry and told ANGINA it is not about gender, but the person that counts. JAKE could not bear a life without ANGINA. He does not care whether people would think he is gay, stupid or insane for continuing his relationship with the woman he loves. ANGINA is moved into tears, knowing that she really found the man that will love her beyond gender. The two hugged each other, signifying their sweet reunion.

REBECCA and GABS are also both men and after 5 months, they became really close. GABS is quite annoyed that REBECCA is now a guy, but she still likes her anyway. They saw DANNY in full drag outfit. DANNY now claims he is Danica, queen of the queer. REBECCA felt she was tricked because DANNY pretended to be her boyfriend. She tries to choke the life out of the screaming gay. GABS, DANNY and REBECCA end up in jail for causing a disturbance in the streets. While in jail, DANNY tells the reason why he pretended to be REBECCA's boyfriend. This is because REBECCA is a walking magnet for bad boys who just plays with her heart. DANNY told REBECCA he really cares for her and was really sad to see REBECCA get hurt from one guy to another. DANNY said he only plans to pretend to be REBECCA's boyfriend until REBECCA finally finds the right man/girl for her. DANNY says REBECCA has finally found the right one for her and then winks at GABS.

CLAIRE finally gives birth to her child. It is a girl. GABS, REBECCA and ANGINA argue what the name of the girl should be, suddenly PROF. LAVINA enters and flamboyantly declares it should be named after her.

MAC was imprisoned after he was accused of raping a girl. He became one of the sex slaves of the other inmates. MIKAELA was in the same prison, but unlike MAC, MIKAELA found someone who loves her and protects her from the other inmates.

CLAIRE stops studying and started working to support her baby. ANGINA and JAKE are engaged. They went to a jewelry store and bought wedding rings for each other. REBECCA, GABS and DANNY became best buddies and hangs out at REBECCA's house. REBECCA, GABS, and ANGINA reunite at the christening of CLAIRE's daughter, ROSE. The three became Rose's godparents.
